SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

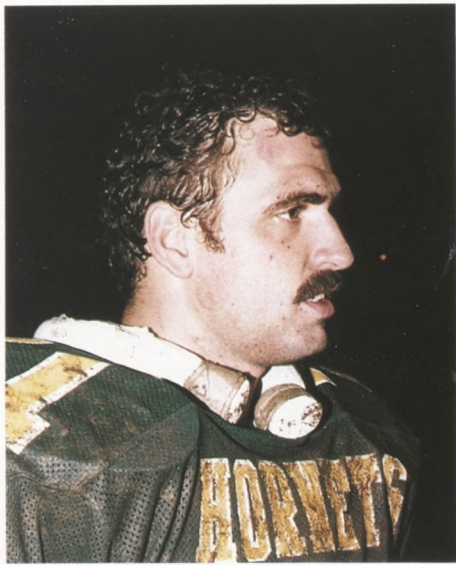

California State University, Sacramento, offers variety for a wide range of people. CSUS is large enough to provide a wide selection of quality academic programs (many through the masters degree), though not too large to take a personal interest in a student's educational experience.

Students here at CSUS find entertainment opportunities available on campus. Athletic and social activities, lectures, plays, concerts and dances are sponsored by student government and various student organizations on campus. Also, in and around beautiful Sacramento, students have found rafting, boating, golf, tennis, biking and numerous other activities to enjoy.

CSUS is one of the nineteen college campuses in the California State University and Colleges system.

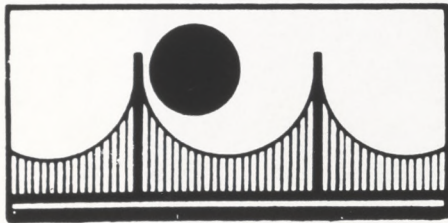

LIVE FROM CSUS

THE LIFE OF A STUDENT

THE LIFE OF A STUDENT...

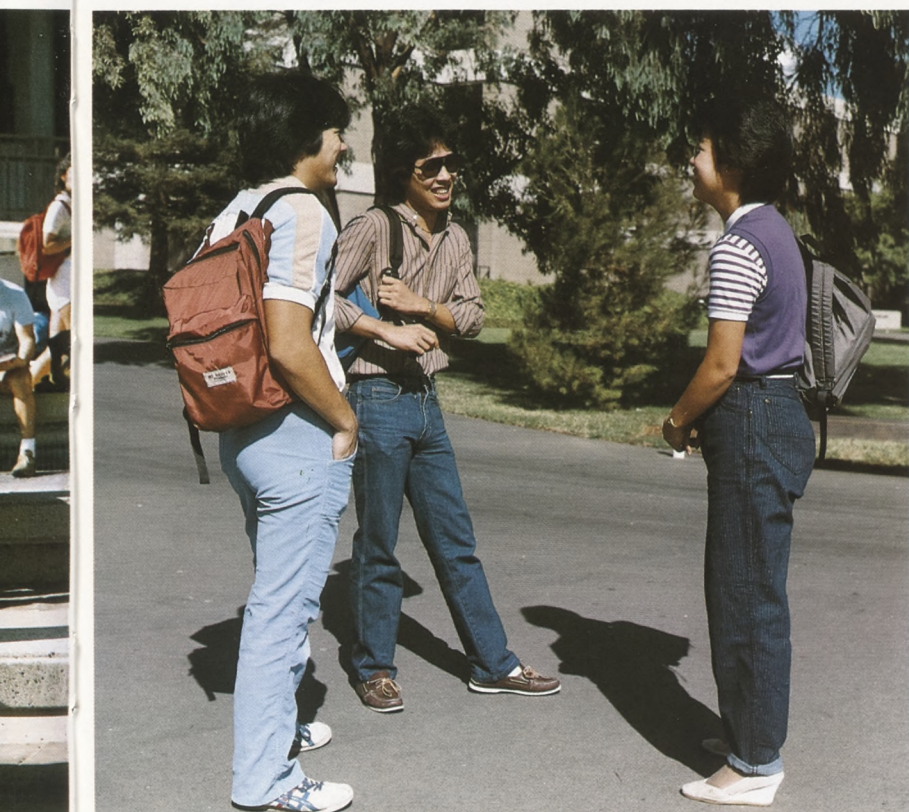

The previous incidents were excerpts from History of Sacramento State College: 20 Years of Higher Education, by D.E. Moore.

THE LIFE OF ARTISTS

BRINGING BACK MEMORIES . . .

CSUS was first founded in 1947 and named Sacramento State College. It was located in the present-day Sacramento Junior College site, and in two annexes needed for additional space.

In the annexes, which were formerly restaurants and stores, Dr. Jim Bradfield, Professor of Education, recalls that refrigerators and ovens were useful not only to keep one's lunch cold or warm, but to stare papers; he remembers a near tragedy when certification records for teachers were scorched when someone accidentally turned up the heat in oven where they were "filed".

Another instance at the Ninth Avenue Annex, concerned students in classes that were bothered by flies and traffic noises. They petitioned to have their classes changed; instead, however, they were reprimanded for their lack of pioneer spirit.

Sacramento State College made the move to its new and present site between "J" Street and Folsom Boulevard in 1953. Acting President, Dr. Guy A. West, Governor Earl Warren of California, and one hundred and fifty automobiles filled with students and faculty made the memorable procession through downtown Sacramento under a banner inscribed with the words "GO EAST WITH WEST!"

CREW AT CSUS—THE BEGINNING OF A NEW TRADITION

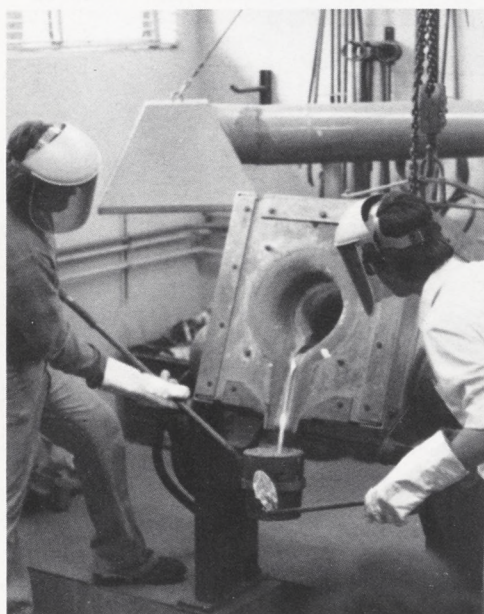

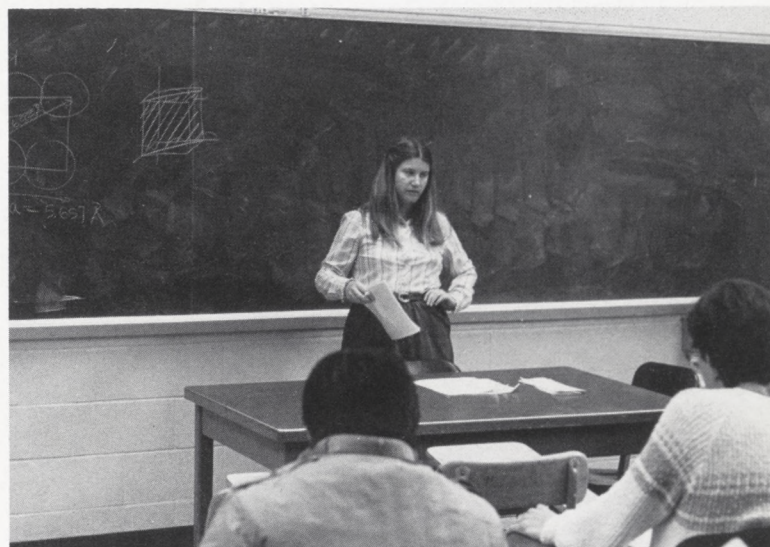

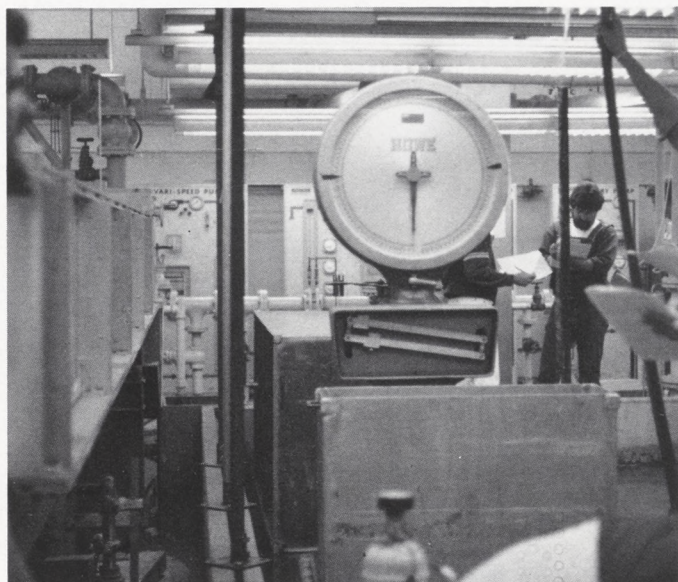

The first ever rowing club at CSUS lowered their eight seat shells into Lake Natoma in September of 1983. In doing so, they launched what now looks to be a successful crew and one of the newest clubs on campus. Though rowing is new to CSUS, it is an old sport and one rich in history and tradition. The history of the sport is only part of its appeal. Rowing is a difficult sport to master. Sometimes it is hard to figure just why you do it. There is an infectious nature to the sport, however, and once you have tried it, the harder and harder it becomes to stop. The attraction to rowing was strong enough to attract about 25 men and women this year, and carry them through some tough times. Those 4:30 a.m. practices, and hard rows in weather that would keep any old salt landlocked, can be trying to one's dedication. But towing has benefits and good times too, and even if you don't win there is nothing quite like the feeling of rowing a good, hard race right down to the finish. It is the races that make all that work worthwhile. The tradition we started this year is one we hope will long continue at CSUS. The crew, along with Coach Steve Gallant, have helped bring a prestigious sport to campus. Though, still in the process of building a winning crew, this years members can be proud to say, "I rowed for the Hornet Crew."

THE ADMINISTRATION CONGRATULATES THE CLASS OF 1984

Austin J. Gerber,
President (Acting)
California State
University, Sacramento

To the Graduates of 1984:

By completing the requirements for your degree, you have joined the ranks of men and women whom society in its wisdom now regards formally as having an advanced education.

As an educated person, however, you are more aware than most that education is not something to be gotten out of the way and ended with the presentation of a diploma. It is, rather, a lifelong process and pleasure that can continue to expand the horizons of your world and give you the pleasures of a cultivated mind.

Your future is bright. The University community joins me in wishing you every success in the years ahead.
